Members are entitled to a non-exclusive and revocable license and privilege to use and enjoy the Club Property and Facilities and any activity and program organised by the Club in accordance with the rights and privileges attaching to the member's Membership Category and the terms of the Membership Plan.

The Owner or Club Management (as the agent of the Owner) may terminate or revoke membership privileges at any time and for any reason.

The Owner may appoint, from time to time, persons or a company to manage and operate the Club and Club Property and Facilities. No member has, by their membership or the payment of membership dues, fees or other charges any right to vote or to involvement in the management and operation of the Club.

2.00 Application for Membership

Applications for membership must be made on the Membership Application Form, which must be completed in all respects and signed by the applicant.

Applicants rejected for membership have no recourse against the Owner or Club Management.

No member has, by reason of their membership only, any liability for any of the debts, obligations or liabilities of the Club or the Owner.

Each member and if a corporate member, each guarantor, has personal liability for the payment of all Club accounts, membership dues, fees and other charges imposed on the member by Club Management.

Club membership is by application and acceptance only, and the annual renewal of membership is at the option and discretion of Club Management.

Membership will not be renewed unless the membership dues, fees, charges and Club account for the previous membership year is fully paid.

A member may resign membership in the Club by delivering to Club Management 21 days prior written notice of resignation. Notwithstanding any resignation, termination or suspension of membership, the member is liable for any amount unpaid on the member's Club account, and for unpaid membership dues, fees and other charges.

3.00 Suspension and termination of membership

A membership may be suspended or terminated by Club Management if, in the sole judgment of the Club Management, the member:

- (a) fails to pay any amount owing to Club Management in a prompt and timely manner;
- (b) submits false information on the Membership Application Form;
- (c) permits the membership card or Club Account to be used by anyone other than the designated holder.
- (d) Engages in or refrains from any other conduct or obligation determined by Club Management as appropriate for suspension or termination of membership as determined by Club Management from time to time.

No member is entitled because of such restrictions or suspension to any refund of membership dues, fees or other charges.

4.00 Club Accounts

A member must not authorise anybody (other than a members partner or any person authorised under a corporate membership) to charge purchases made at the Club to a members Club account without prior written authorisation delivered to Club Management by the member.

Membership does not automatically give members the ability to charge purchases to their account. Members wishing to open an account must complete the credit facility application, which must be approved by Club Management prior to the member charging any purchases.

5.00 Members Mailing Address

Each member is responsible for maintaining a mailing address with Club Management to which the member wants all Club notices, Club account statements and any invoices, other Club publications or correspondence to be sent. The Members Advisory Committee does not have the right to be involved in the management and operation of Gainsborough Greens, other than the functions detailed in the previous paragraph. Club Management may reject any member to the election on the Members Advisory Committee without cause. Management may also disband this Committee without having to justify its reasons at any time.

8.00 Dress

There should be no need for the Club to exercise supervision over the dress of Members. It should be left to their own good taste to always appear neat and well dressed. In the past some Members have appeared in attire that is not considered appropriate and has been the subject of complaint. Members should also ensure that their guests are dressed appropriately.

The following is NOT considered suitable dress. Shirt worn outside shorts (unless designed for this purpose), shirts without collars, thongs, beach, board or abbreviated shorts.

9.00 Booking Etiquette

Bookings are essential to not only ensure a tee time, but also to avoid any embarrassment. All players report to the Pro-Shop 15 minutes prior to tee-time. Groups are limited to a maximum of four players with the lowest handicapper to captain the group unless nominated before play. The group captain will be responsible for etiquette and observance of the R & A Rules of golf for that group. Lowest handicapper will also ensure the players in that group carry sand buckets and repair divots through the green and pitchmarks on the green and surrounds. All players should be aware of the local rules and temporary local rules before play.

Players are required to go to the tee to stand by for tee-off after reporting to Pro-Shop. The captain of each group will ensure that the group keeps its position in the field and is encouraged to play in such a way as to avoid slow play.

All Members must present Membership Card to Golf-Shop staff when checking in.

19.00. Gainsborough Greens Redevelopment

Member's special attention is drawn to the purchase in 2006 of the Gainsborough Greens Golf Course and surrounding lands, by Mirvac Pacific a company created by the Publicly Listed Company, Mirvac Group. The Golf Course is now part of a much larger 489 hectare land holding which will be redeveloped into a Masterplanned Community with over 2000 dwellings and associated facilities. The Golf Course will become an integral part of that community. As is usual with developments of such large scale, the project will be delivered in multiple stages spreading out over a number of years. The Developer, as the owning company, intends to keep 18 holes of the Golf Course open throughout the life of the redevelopment; however the configuration of the 18 holes will need to vary to suit the staging and location of the works.

The Developer will have to work closely with the Golf Course Management to achieve these objectives and through the Golf Course Management will keep Club members informed by club-house displays, information events, newsletters, emails, post-outs and the like.

On or about January 2012, these Terms and Conditions of the Gainsborough Greens Golf Club Membership will be reviewed to take into proper account the planned major changes in local area population, golf course residences, wildlife corridors, easements, bodies corporate and a myriad of other planning and operational issues that are yet to be fully resolved. As such the issuing of a new membership offer to any person or entity after 1st May 2008 does not infer any right, unless specifically stated as part of the membership offer, to that person or entity, or any responsibility on the Club Management or Land Owner, to continue that membership after January 2012. The entirety of the redevelopment is currently expected to be completed in 2016. This timing is dependant on various Government Approvals and the Rate of Sales achieved for Land Residential and Commercial products.
